DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claim 6-30 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in the reply filed on 6/23/2008. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hershberger (2,159,152).

Regarding claims 1-3, and 5: Hershberger teach a process wherein a wax composition consisting of only wax and gum rubber, which is a natural rubber (example I) is mixed by applying an external force below the melting point of the wax and then heating the composition above the melting temperature to melt the composition (page 2, lines 51-71).

Art Unit: 1796

Claims 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hershberger (2,159,152) as applied to claims 1 and 3 above as evidence by C. C. Ho et al. (Low Glass Transition Temperature Rubber Latex Film Formation Studied by Atomic Force Microscopy).

Regarding claim 4: Gum rubber is an amorphous polymer. The applicant has shown that natural rubber is an amorphous polymer (paragraph 0045). The glass transition temperature of natural rubber is about  $-65^{\circ}\text{C}$ . C. C. Ho et al. (Low Glass Transition Temperature Rubber Latex Film Formation Studied by Atomic Force Microscopy) is being used as an evidentiary reference to prove this fact. Room or elevated temperature is well above  $-65^{\circ}\text{C}$ . Since Hershberger teach that the mixing occurs just below the melting point (page 2, lines 54-56) the temperature will be well above the glass transition temperature of the gum rubber.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
